Family Historian

Expand Events in the Lives of Your Ancestors

Once you've researched and recorded your family ancestor's data, your family chart may just look like only a list of names and dates. Jo Ann will use her own family history to explain how to add more details to the ancestors on your chart by utilizing different sources outside the world of genealogy to help establish a more complete picture of their lives. She will discuss how the use of family records, documents, online sources, and historical books help place that information in a social and historical context leading you on an amazing adventure of discovery.

Jo Ann Cantu Valentin is a lifetime member and a current board member of HOGAR de Dallas. She and her sister, Gloria Cantu, are the family historians for their family and have been researching their ancestors for over 35 years. They take pleasure in sharing their research techniques and knowledge with HOGAR members and the Hispanic community.
